MIHALI

The Vermont-based, but Maplewood-born, solo singer, songwriter, guitarist, artist, and Twiddle co-founder follows reggae's evolutionary ebb and flow, existing in a perpetual state of inspiration and creation, and remaining committed to sonic evolution. Exuding a balanced mix of rich influence, Mihali's music entwines reggae spirit, fluid soundscape architecture, and invigorating mantras meant to be chanted aloud in a packed venue.

Following years of fan demand, Mihali served up his solo debut, Breathe and Let Go, in 2020. It boasted collaborations with Citizen Cope, Matisyahu, G. Love & Special Sauce, and Trevor Hall, and instantly reacted with audiences, gathering millions of streams. In addition to glowing reviews from JamBase and Live For Live Music, Grateful Web exclaimed, "Mihali's musical talent is special."

During the global pandemic, Mihali kept writing songs and recording remotely – trading song files back and forth. Mihali said, "Every morning, I would wake up to a new .wav file, and it was like Christmas!" – The efforts lead to 2022's Effection album with the song "Maplewood."

RED BARAAT

Red Baraat is a pioneering band from Brooklyn, New York. Conceived by dhol player Sunny Jain, the group has drawn worldwide praise for its singular sound, a merging of hard driving North Indian bhangra with elements of hip-hop, jazz and raw punk energy. Created with no less a purposeful agenda than manifesting joy and unity in all people, Red Baraat's spirit is worn brightly on its sweaty and hard-worked sleeve.

But even as it's clear that Red Baraat has built a startling history of performances in iconic settings, the band's bread and butter remains the sweaty clubs, festivals, packed performing arts centers, and college auditoriums that keeps the band on the road all over the world the last several years. It's here where Red Baraat does what it does best - communing with their audience in a joyful, near hedonistic celebration of music and dance which, tellingly, draws a crowd even more diverse than the players on stage.

The universality of what Red Baraat does is undeniable. And this is no happy accident. It is the product of intention and design.

LOUIS CATO

Cato is a multi-instrumentalist who plays bass, guitar, percussion, low brass, and others, in addition to vocals. He is also a songwriter, with one album to his credit and a second in production and the band leader for Stephen Colbert "The Late Show" house band.

"It directly calls upon my authenticity as a deliverer of songs, as a singer, as a guitarist," Cato says. "And also as an arranger, as a communicator and a lifter of vibes. Those are core parts of my identity in the Ed Sullivan Theatre, just as they are in the outside world."

Ultimately, Cato's open-minded view of the world is reflected in both the collaborators he cultivates and the music he creates. He is humbled when playing with the likes of Bobby McFerrin, Dave Matthews, James Taylor, and Joe Walsh but is given equal respect from his contemporaries. Cato's original music flows from a place of honesty that exudes authenticity and is immediately arresting and recognizable.

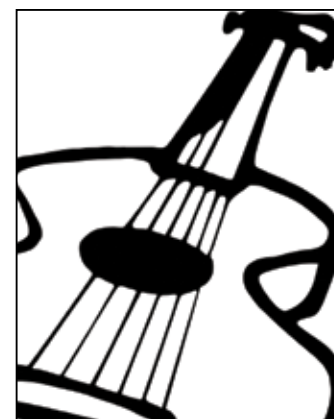

REMEMBER JONES

Remember Jones is a one-of-a-kind soul/pop singer, storyteller and bandleader with a throwback vibe and authentic energy. Often backed and supported by a large ensemble of musicians, his original music and creative, theatrical events have played to countless packed and sold-out clubs and theaters throughout the United States.

Whether you see him alongside a piano, a four-piece rock band, or with a large orchestra, Remember Jones evokes the energy of the greatest front men and women, with one of a kind song styling and expert storytelling that keep audiences on their toes and emotions in the moment.

In addition to touring and supporting two albums worth of original material, Remember Jones presents and fronts a recreation of Amy Winehouse, Joe Cocker's Mad Dogs and Englishmen album, and a theatrical celebration of the music of Queen and Freddie Mercury.

Our festival is in Maplewood's historic Memorial Park, right across from the Maplewood train station. If you want to "map it" into your device, use the address of 580 Valley St, Maplewood, NJ 07040.

The Amphitheater will host the main stage with two days of live music. The Kid Zone will have a little something fun for all ages. Arts and crafts vendors will line the walkway of the grounds, while families gather with their blankets and chairs to enjoy the best weekend of the year!

The East Field is just steps away from the amphitheater! More than 20 food vendors will offer an array of international food and tasty desserts. A large tented Beer Garden will have tables, chairs and back yard games. And another 40 artisans will show their wares.

Parking is "street parking" with normal township rules. We encourage our attendees to walk, if possible.

Oakview Ave is restricted access for short-term band and vendor drop-offs. If you are a band or a vendor, you will receive more-specific instructions.

There is limited handicapped parking for those with proper tags near the train station at the intersection of Dunnell and Oakview.

As the Maplewood library and the bridge nearby the Duck Pond are undergoing renovations, access from Baker St. might be limited.

Port o' Potties will be located on Dunnell near the train station and also near the Beer Garden.

Adjacent to the performance stage will be a Merch Tent where you can purchase merchandise, find police and emergency medical volunteers, check in as a band, vendor, or volunteer, submit or claim a lost and found item, and help or reconnect with a lost child.
