

JamieSpace USP

We know what you're thinking: "How am I supposed to keep track of all this stuff?"

You've got a million things going on in your life and keeping it all straight can feel like a full-time job. You want to be organized, but there's just too much information coming at you from every direction: texts and emails from friends, chats from coworkers, reminders from apps—and then there's your overflowing inbox. What happens when you need to remember something important? How do you find the time to plan for the future?

Everyone has a central communication and organization problem. The ability to capture, organize and easily access your important ideas is daunting. Endless emails and social media messages; there is no continuity to your communications and tasks fall through the cracks.

That's why we created JamieSpace: a place that functions like a personal hub/home for your thoughts, inspirations, discussions, personal projects, and more. Basically, it's your second brain – made for storing and talking about the important stuff.; it's where everything comes together! Invite friends, family members, friends, or colleagues—or keep it private if that's what works best for you. With JamieSpace, there's no wrong way to use it!

Stop drowning in your texts and chats! Create an easy way to manage multiple conversations without missing a beat. This is a way to centralize all the conversations and discussions you have and discuss anything from hobbies, holidays, family happenings, home projects like renovating or building a backyard shed.

Create a JamieSpace in under a minute- it is easy, intuitive and highly customizable. You can show others what you're thinking of by inviting them to your JamieSpace. You can easily add pictures, videos, links, and other info so that everyone can see how ideas can come together for something impactful. JamieSpace makes it easier for your contacts to stay connected and helps keep the lines of communication open in an easy format.
